Understanding among nations and universal tolerance were named imperative to world-wide friendship by Dr. G. G. D. Kilpatrick, D.S.O., principal, United Theological College, Montreal, in an address to the 46th anniversary dinner of St. David's Society of Montreal in the Ritz-Carlton Hotel last night.

George Davies, president, was chairman during an evening of celebration that featured toasts to St. David by prominent members of Montreal's Welsh community, choral offerings by the Montreal Welsh Choir and dancing.

Friendship was the foundation of modern society, Dr. Kilpatrick stressed, and he felt that not enough attention was paid what he termed "the tissues of human society."

Real problem of nations today was that they did not know how to "walk together", Dr. Kilpatrick maintained.

"The art of living together has to be studied and learned. It entails discipline, tolerance and self-sacrifice."

Dr. Kilpatrick contended that until a treaty representative of the minds and mentalities of all peoples was created, no other type of treaty could succeed.

Tolerance by all toward all would lessen much of the world's bitterness, Dr. Kilpatrick contended but he stressed that tolerance must be practiced before its benefits could be enjoyed.

Dr. Kilpatrick was thanked by D. W. Roberts. Toast to guests was offered by O. C. Roberts and A. L. Melling, president, St. George's Society, responded. Toast to Wales was expressed by Taliesin Jones, B.A.

Songs by the choir included: Dolfor, Forth to Battle, Aberystwyth and the Sailors' Chorus. Thomas Edmund conducted and Dennis Ore was at the piano.

Head table guests included: Very Rev. A. S. Duncan Jones, Dean of Chichester and Mrs. Jones; Rev. W. Bagnall, rector of Hamilton Cathedral and Dean of Niagara, and Mrs. Bagnall; J. W. Graham, representing St. Andrew's Society, and Mrs. Graham; Miss E. Hart and J. A. Murphy, K.C., representing St. Patrick's Society; A. B.
